

Center of

The Dodos

Innocence, I tell you oftenly how to be
And if I get to watch you grow up the way I did
Will you forgive, somehow we thought things would go another wa y
Now I forget all of the things I tried to remember

Go on forget what it was you were yesterday
Go on forget what it was you were yesterday
Go on forget what it was you were yesterday
Go on forget what it was you were yesterday

Find yourself not where you wanted but where you belong
Closing doors always seemed easier than trying to hang on
And I forget what it was like

Disappointing world
You're not the center of the universe
Disappointing world
You're not the center of the universe

My ghost comes back again
The trouble is I don't know what it means
And though I share my gift
The trouble is I don't know what it is

Disappointing world
You're not the center of the universe
Disappointing world
You're not the center of the universe
Disappointing world
You're not the center of the universe
Disappointing world
You're not the center of the universe
