

Firefly

The Dreadnoughts

Two, three, four!

Graceful and silent, daring and true
Sail on through the sky
Faithful and valiant in all that you do
Shine on firefly

There is a light in this house that will soon grow dim
Sail on through the sky
And God can't help the state we're in
Shine on firefly

While the huddled masses cower
Underneath the blazin' light
Ya' tend your tiny bower
Alone at the border of black and of white
At the edge of the night

Shimmerin' streaks in the pagan air
Sail on through the sky
Like it or not we will soon be there
Shine on firefly

And now Tokyo's falling, Savanna is lost
Sail on through the sky oh
And Avalon grins but our fingers are crossed
Shine on firefly

You were here before we settled
You'll be here after we die
A lonely wretched rabble
Alone at the border of black and of white
At the edge of the night

Lie-lie lie-lie-lie-lie
Lie-lie-lie-lie-lie Lie-lie-lie
Oh Lie-lie lie-lie-lie-lie
So settle on down to the cold earthy ground
With darkness around
And the moon shinin' bright
At the edge of the night

Lets go!

Graceful and silent, daring and true
Sail on through the sky
Faithful and valiant in all that you do
Shine on firefly

For when the light in this house has flickered and died
Sail on through the sky
Your children will light up the world outside
Shine on firefly

While the huddled masses cower
Underneath the blazin' light

Alone at the border of black and of white
