The-Dream

I remember the last time I saw you
Blue
I remember the last time you called my name
Blue

Took my mind, yeah you took my mind
I don't know where the time went
I lost my mind, then I lost my mind
I need time to find it
Hard to climb, so hard to climb
In this kind of climate

All I had was you
And all you had was me
And all we had was a dream of intention
Playing with my life, that's the price to feel alive

And I'd do anything
Just to live on your level
And I'd give anything
Just to love on your level
