

Hello Happiness

The Drifters

I've been a singer for most of my life
I had money and I've been poor
I played my guitar to a handful of fans
And I've heard them shout for more
But through it all I've been so lonely
Missed my woman's velvet touch so much

Hello happiness, goodbye loneliness
Tonight we'll swing til the morning light
Come on over, you're all invited to see
My baby dancing with me

Too many years have been spent on the road
Now I've lost the heart to play
There's only one thing that I want from this life
To be home and home to stay
No more waiting for the mailman
No more long and lonely nights, that's right

Hello happiness, goodbye loneliness
Tonight we'll swing til the morning light
Come on over, you're all invited to see
My baby dancing with me

Hello happiness, goodbye loneliness
Tonight we'll swing til the morning light
Come on over, you're all invited to see
My baby dancing with me

Yeah, hello happiness, goodbye loneliness
Tonight we'll swing til the morning light
Come on over, you're all invited to see
My baby dancing with me

Yeah, hello happiness, goodbye loneliness
Tonight we'll swing til the morning light
Come on over, you're all invited to see
My baby dancing with me

Ooh, hello happiness, goodbye loneliness
Tonight we'll swing til the morning light
Come on over, you're all invited to see
My baby dancing with me