

Everybody's Lover

The Driver Era

Something about this, 'bout this hurts
Something about this looks like work
Something about this, 'bout this hurts
Babe
Something about this I deserve

I always told myself it's paranoia-noia
Just so I would stay
Now all my friends are saying, "Told you she ain't loyal
You should walk away."

So, leave me lonely like I want you to
You're so convincing with the things you do
So, leave me lonely like I want you to
You're so convincing when you say that we're each other's
But you're everybody's lover
Babe

You seem to get just what you need
You seem to use it 'til I'm weak
Now that you got me on my knees, babe
Well, you just watch me as I bleed
Yeah

I always told myself it's paranoia-noia
Just so I would stay
Now all my friends are saying, "Told you she ain't loyal
You should walk away."
Yeah, I should walk away

So, leave me lonely like I want you to
You're so convincing with the things you do
So, leave me lonely like I want you to
You're so convincing when you say that we're each other's
But you're everybody's lover, babe

Baby
