

The Charade

The Duskfall

Frustration from a broken brain, can't do shit with a paralyzed mind.

Anger then tends to fill my head when some dumb fuckers are playing god.

My hatred is strong and it's building fast.
I'm walking around, thinking it's fine like this.
Please take a good look at the situation here.
There's wars and hunger everywhere.

Listen to me, all that I see.
Bankers and thieves.
People who're trying to rule over me.

Listen to me everyone, all that I see who's to blame.
Bankers and thieves die.
People who're trying to rule over me.

Something's wrong in this world where we live in.
Everything's a charade.
Now is the time to change how we're living.
We need to break the Charade.

I believe that it's wrong, with your apathy.
You need to be hit with some reality.
Those people in charge need to face these facts.
There's wars and hunger everywhere.

Listen to me, all that I see.
Bankers and thieves.
People who're trying to rule over me.

Listen to me everyone, all that I see who's to blame.
Bankers and thieves die.
People who're trying to rule over me.

Something's wrong in this world where we live in.
Everything's a charade.
Now is the time to change how we're living.
We need to break the Charade.

Something's wrong in this world where we live in.
Everything's a charade.
Now is the time to change how we're living.
We need to break the Charade.
