

We The Freaks

The Duskfall

The little girl with colorful sleeves...
...has more to offer this world than the banking thieves.
She knows more than the teachers who preach.

Don't judge us before we speak.
Don't be fooled by the ones who scream.
Don't judge us before we speak.
Don't be fooled by the ones who scream.

Everytime you judge us freaks.
Remember what we are and that we can come close to you.
We might look like a disease but we never walk alone and we are everywhere you need us.

The long haired boy with a satanic tee...
Understands the difference between mocking and beliefs.
He knows more than the preachers who teach.

Don't judge us before we speak.
Don't be fooled by the ones who scream.
Don't judge us before we speak.
Don't be fooled by the ones who scream.

Everytime you judge us freaks.
Remember what we are and that we can come close to you.
We might look like a disease but we never walk alone and we are
everywhere you need us.

Everytime you judge us freaks.
Remember what we are and that we can come close to you.
We might look like a disease but we never walk alone and we are
everywhere you need us.

Everytime you judge us freaks.
Remember what we are and that we can come close to you.
