Ever So Sweet

The Early November

I just found a friend in one of your lies to treat me so nice I can't believe my bones when they say so many things they tell me I am fine believe me I, I try

Oooh oooh oooh...

Ever so sweet... you make this seem the way things go its not my fault and I'll miss I'll miss you so good through all of those nights we lost our way back home

Ever so sweet you baked it in cakes for me. What you left behind, it hurts my teeth. Bring in the past with the postcards you sent for me. Every line, it brings me right back down.

Can't you see the wall you built for me can't you see the wall you built for me can't you see the wall you built for me

Cause we're not special we're not special we're not special

Well I'm not special I'm not special

Ever so sweet you baked it in cakes for me. What you left behind, it hurts my teeth. Bring in the past with the postcards you sent for me. Every line, it brings me right back down.
