

I know the grass is just too green today
I'm not awake quite yet
Could you keep it down a bit

And I can tell the sun is so hot today
I don't understand why
It has to be this way

And all the birds outside, they sing their songs of love
In perfect harmony
And I hear them call to me

Come and ride with us
Come and fly with us
Come and fly away
The sky is so high

Come out right away
Come outside today
Come and fly away
The sky is so high

Oh my head it hurts so much from what you said
The flowers bloom with all their petals meanwhile
You left me here

And I can see my own reflection in my eyes
My eyes are heavy with tears
From a falling sky

And all the birds outside, they sing their songs of love
In perfect harmony
And I hear them call to me

Come and ride with us
Come and fly with us
Come and fly away
The sky is so high

Come out right away
Come outside today
Come and fly away
The sky is so high
