

Wanted Criminals

The Evens

Everybody's got their badges
But they've got no one to apprehend
Got no one to apprehend

Wanted criminals

Everybody's got their badges
But they've got no one to apprehend
Got no one to apprehend

Wanted criminals

Everybody's got their badges
But they've got no one to apprehend
Got no one to apprehend

Need a job, need a job, need a job, need a job, need a job, need a job, need a job
People need something to do - they're getting angry
So the bosses came up with a hell of a plan
Security job for each and every man
More alligators for their boats
Keep them hungry

What if every single person was a deputy?
What if every single person was a deputy?
What if every single person was a deputy?
Writing down the wall

Jails in search of prisoners
