The Expendables

You were the last one
Of a world that's been destroyed
Left behind a legacy of boys
I was the first one
That was born into your life
And now I'm watching you breathe one last time

I'm just scrambling
For all the right things I should say

Please don't go
I'll be lost without you
Please don't go
I'll be lost without you

I wanted to save you
But it was like you did not care
Cause you just sat and waited for the end
It's like you asked for this
To not put up a fight
You only saw the darkest sides of life

I'm just scrambling
For all the right things I should say

Please don't go
I'll be lost without you
Please don't go
I'll be lost without you

I wished you had called me
I didn't not know it was so bad
All that time you were drifting away
I would have pulled you back
And now I'm stranded

Oh so please don't go
I'll be lost without you
Please don't go
I'll be lost without you
