

Social Drinker

The Expendables

Six in the morning I'd never drink again
I dropped dead it was a funeral for a friend
Take all the bottles out the fridge and you can bury them
I don't want to end up in another scenario

Got to the bar, and we started drinking liquor
On a Tuesday night at Applebee's you called me a quitter
But I wish I had a dollar every time we crushed oranges
Always followed up by impossible mornings

Cause I'm so tired of beer and liquor
Everybody knows I'm a social drinker
When I get with my friends I should have stayed in
Tomorrow I'll be waking up with my head aching
Save me from myself, I'm a firestone

Ah, no no no no no
Not gonna answer my phone on purpose
Called up t-mobile just to cancel all my service
Cause I know what happens when we all get together
Gifts, birthday parties stocked with Jameson and Ginger
I gotta get up early man I'm trying to buy a house
It's hard to be an adult, don't wanna see my bank account
Ever since I turned 30 all the hang overs kill me
Y'all are fucking crazy but we can't stop spillin' yo

Cause I'm so tired of beer and liquor
Everybody knows I'm a social drinker
When I get with my friends I should have stayed in
Tomorrow I'll be waking up with my head aching
Save me from myself, I'm a firestone
Whoa
Save me from myself, I'm a firestone
Whoa

I wanna stop but then I think of all the things I'm missin'
Go to the beach and have some drinks sit by the ocean listen
To all the waves while they're crashing down
Just like my principles when they're allowed to drown
I really hate that it's so easy just for me to break
All the promises I made for myself every day
I can't beat 'em so I join 'em for another drink
I'll just start over tomorrow

Cause I'm so tired of beer and liquor
Everybody knows I'm a social drinker
When I get with my friends I should have stayed in
Tomorrow I'll be waking up with my head aching
And every day is a celebration
Getting off a war of inebriation
Save me from myself I'm a firestone
Whoa
Save me from myself I'm a firestone
Whoa
Save me from myself I'm a firestone
