

Stuck On You

The Eyeliners

We're still talking about the same ol' shit
And i'm oh so sick of it
Regurgitate the same old lines
When i feel we've neared the end
I find you here again
Seems like we've hit another dead end

Try and try again
When will this ever end
I pull away but i always fling right back

I'm stuck on you, like glue, sad but true
Want to get away, but i don't know how to
We're on a winding road that never ends
It's no use, confused, unenthused
Cuz i've given up on you
I guess it's time to say that we're though

Turn back and double take
Has it all been such a waste
Lost time that won't be replaced
It's been two years and then
I find you here again
It seems like you want to make amends

[Chorus]