

Humans

The FAIM

Easy comes, easy goes
Somewhere out the window
Give you hope, you don't know
It's never really simple
I, I'm enjoying the ride and you're no different than I

Some will change, some too late
I may be the latter
Will you be the one to say
Happy ever after
Oh, you may give it a try, but we're all one of a kind

Love is only painful when it lies
That's why it's okay to fight

That's what makes us human
Every time we lose it
You find how a heart aches
Every day has ruins
But we know what the truth is
Sometimes you gotta break just to know you're human, human

Brain is weird, full of fear
You don't know what I know
Tripping up, falling down
Climbing through my halo
Oh, counting cracks in the ceiling
Wide awake while I'm dreaming

Changing gear, must admit
I've been overthinking
Sorry babe, I'm ashamed
That you caught me sinking
Hey, I'm just trapped in the tide and You're so different than I

Love is only painful when it lies
That's why it's okay to fight

That's what makes us human
Every time we lose it
You find how a heart aches
Every day has ruins
But we know what the truth is
Sometimes you gotta break just to know you're human, human
That makes us human, human

Love is only painful when it lies (human)
We could stand to break a hundred times (human)

That's what makes us human
Every time we lose it
You find how a heart aches
Every day has ruins
Sometimes you gotta break

That's what makes us human
Every time we lose it
Every day has ruins
