

Behemoth

The Famine

From the earth iron rises
An awakening, a rebirth
Lifted on wings of ashes
All moving forward

As it falls all around us
Failure climbs with heavy limbs
Our eyes, a witness to everything
As all is laid to waste

Fed through my actions
It breathes and hunts with tormented eyes
My strength crumbles at the breath of behemoth

Ripped from the tongues of liars
Torn from the hearts of thieves
Resting in the laps of tyrants
All moving forward

As it falls all around us
Failure climbs with heavy limbs
Our eyes, a witness to everything
As all is laid to...

Burn it all down to lift it up
Absorb the ruin, inhale the dust

All hail the new crown
Filled with remorse and regret
Face the reflection upon you
This day you won't soon forget
