

Harmless

The Features

Well you feel alright when you count your sheep at night
'Cause you've been convinced that the wolves don't really bite
Now they're outside howling, love
Say they'll be your friends
So you open up your door and let 'em in

And they say it's harmless
No need to run
You learn it's harmless
As a gun

Well you shine your apple and have yourself a bite
'Cause you've been convinced that the snakes are always right
First they feed you venom, love
Then sell you the antidote
If you get in line
They will stick it down your throat

They say it's harmless
Good for everyone
You learn it's harmless
As a gun
