

War's Not Won

The Feeling

Got yourself a dog and a little house
Got yourself a job, oh you should be proud
And Jesus says you can marry now
So tell me what the hell's all the fuss about?

We're fighting 'cause the war's not won
We're fighting 'cause the war's not won
We're fighting for the old ones hated by the cruel
Fighting in the playground, fighting in the school
We're fighting 'cause the war's not won
We're fighting 'cause the war's not won
We're fighting in the back streets all over the earth
Fighting for their love and fighting for their worth

It ain't just Russia, it's Hollywood (Hey, who's your lover? Keep it undercover)
You came here to act, well you'd better act good (You'll never be the leading man if you're ever with a man)
And the message going out is a powerful one (You can have your fame but you've gotta show your shame)
Still so much to hide in the California sun (Shame)

Keep fighting 'cause the war's not won
Keep fighting 'cause the war's not won
Keep fighting to ascend this legacy of shame
Fighting to be equal, not to be the same
We're fighting 'cause the war's not won
I'm sorry, but the war's not won
I'm sorry if you think we're ruining your fun
Sorry but the real fight's only just begun

No matter where you go
Nobody seems to know
That it means so much more than just who you love
Freedom is a word (Freedom is a word), too many times I've heard (Too many times I've heard)
But we'll know what it means when they've taken it from us
Yes, we'll know what it means when they've taken it from us

We're fighting 'cause the war's not won
We're fighting 'cause the war's not won
We're fighting to define this loving family
Brothers and my sisters making history
Keep fighting 'cause the war's not won
Keep fighting 'cause the war's not won
Keep fighting with a baseline, fighting with a tune
Fighting from the stereo into your living room
We're fighting 'cause the war's not won

Do you, do you, do you, do you, do you feel free?
Do you, do you, do you, do you feel free?
Do you, do you, do you feel free?

We're fighting 'cause the war's not won
We're fighting 'cause the war's not won
We're fighting 'cause the war's not won
We're fighting 'cause the war's not won

We're fighting 'cause the war's not won
We're fighting 'cause the war's not won
We're fighting 'cause the war's not won