

Shadows

The Five Satins

Someone stepped way into my dreams
And tore them, tore them apart
Shadows for the first time
Came into my heart
Remember, last September
Our love was bright and gay
Should have known it couldn't last
Forever and a day

Whoa, moments seemed like hours
The day seemed li-i-ike years
Happy moments I have known
Have drowned in my tears
I need someone to tell me
That you were not for me

I'd smile and say "I'll wait forever"
Through the years
And never, oh never
Ever let the shadows
Fill my heart again
