Mud

The Flatliners

Do your best and dress for the weather
Try again and wear out those records
Hold your breath, hold it forever
Take pray, and birds of a feather

There you go turning something in me
Combined to set me free
(There you go turning something)
Got to turn my broken key

Lay blame, your big mouth could never
Stay shut but oh one could wonder
Killing lights 'cause darkness is better
Walk away, this shit ain't forever

There you go turning something in me
Combined to set me free
(There you go turning something)
Got to turn my broken key
Yeah

There you turning something in me
(There you go turning something)

There you go turning something in me
Combined to set me free
(There you go turning something)
Got to turn my broken key
There you go turning something in me
Combined to set me free
(There you go turning something)
Got to turn my broken key
