

(he's) The Great Impostor

The Fleetwoods

Well, I went and lost her to the great impostor

I stood and watched her fall
Couldnt help her at all
Poetry so sweet
Has her at his feet his feet
He thinks she's the one but he has just begun
All her friends, they just watch her
For they know the great impostor

Don't she know he's on a stage?
It's not real it's just a play
And he's playing the part
But he's soon to break her heart
Oh can't she see she see?
Tomorrows misery morrows misery
Soon shell learn her fate but it'll be too late
All her friends, they just watch her
For they know the great impostor
And she's soon to join the roster
For they know the great impostor
FADE
And she's soon to join the roster
