

Stupid Girl

The Flower Kings

Now you think that you're so bright running smooth when things are right Now you think you've paid the dues soon you're down to sing the blues So you think that you're so cool well in my eyes a dancing fool Now you think you've got it made what's really you when stars fade

You, you stupid girl, you hit the sky, you own the world
You, may fly so high, but soon it's time to pay the price

So you think, that I "has been", I'd rather say an Evergreen
You may think I'm lost in space, but I've already won the race

You, you stupid girl, you hit the sky, you own the world
open eyes, stop those lies Deliverance that never end, now can you stand up to that test?
May take you higher, higher and higher
So you think you are the center of the Universe?

Now you feel you run the show swimmer of the money flow
Now you think you've got it made
Diamond dust and devils trade

You, you stupid girl, you hit the sky, you own the world
You, you may fly high, but soon it's time to pay the price
You, you stupid girl, you hit the sky, too soon to know You, you may fly so high, but soon it's time for the final deal, it's back to real, now break the seal Deliverance that never end, now can you stand up to the test, can you?
