

We Were Always Here

The Flower Kings

Ride on to the horizon
Fly home from this island
Come back to your senses
Look straight through the lenses
There's lots to understand
This evolution of man

It's so simple in its purity
All that genius, life energies
Like forgotten springs of melody
We were always here

All these lines of illusions
Hide them and use them

It's so simple in its purity
All that genius, life energies
Like forgotten springs of melody
We were always here

It's so simple in its purity
All that genius, life energies
Like forgotten springs of melody
We were always here

It's so simple in its purity
All that genius, life energies
Like forgotten springs of melody
We were always here
It's so simple in its purity
All that genius, life energies
Like forgotten springs of melody
We were always here
