

Through the water, from the sky
On the wind or in our minds
What is there for me to do
Find my way back home to you

Before the autumn air turn black
Before the angry men attack
Together when the sky falls through
A flash of red, I'll fuse with you

Fuse with you, I'm dying too
Running to your side
Now it's here, the pain, the fear
The fall have all arrived
A kiss goodbye

In the city, unprepared
Run and hide, stand and stare
Building's crumble in my head
Wave a flag, raise the dead

Money fuels the fires of war
Only love worth dying for
Together when the sky falls through
A flash of red, I'll fuse with you

We're all the same, running from the flame
We're on our way, don't you feel it
The air will ring, the end of everything
We're on our way, don't you feel it
We're all the same, don't they feel it
We're on our way
