

Forever

The Format

Up the stairs, down the hall and through the wall
Between the sheets, we could be forever
At the door
On your floor
I'm finding all my loose teeth
Nice dreams, forever

Matchsticks, magazines and kerosene
We're burning clean, you and me and forever
I don't care who you knew, where you been, or how you sleep
'Cause we're spending forever

Oh, I feel that I am not like anyone
Oh, but I don't know

Forever

Big sips, "how you been?"s, and "where'd you go?"s
Loose lips 'cause it's been like forever
I'm on your block, but I'm lost, so I'm sending out a smoke screen
Come and find me, forever
Can't glance at the score I'm in here working up a melody
In what's been like forever
Could give a fuck who ended up just where
'Cause I am right here at your stairs forever

Oh, I fear that I am not like anyone
Oh, revive to change the trust, we oughta
Oh, I fear that I'm just like everyone
Oh, but I don't know

Just where we're going on this Friday night, two stones in a valley
Looking for ways that we can smile in the dark
"I should be worth all of your time," as you climb to the back seat
And ask me to make you feel alive for just this once
Now we're driving back home in your car
Under the stars, but it's a mirage
So I'm keeping my eyes to the road
As you're letting go for forever

Forever

Forever

Oh, I fear that I am not like anyone
Oh, revive to change the trust, we oughta
Oh, I feel that I am just like everyone
Oh, but I don't know
