

Let's Make This Moment a Crime

The Format

Weve just got to take our time its like nothing really matters, so lets make this moment a crime I know, I know youre left Behind but I'll do my best to feel broke down its been a minute
, a second, I'll wait for you to come around but I know, I Know youre taking time maybe its just too late, ive got to get away when everything feels the same, ive got to get away tell Me its not too late

On and on and on you wait and oh the days they fade away and al l the nights theyve never felt The same if I was wrong then I was wrong and on and on and on a nd on the things we do are never going to change well you Havent got a lot to say but you never want to stop you always w ant to feel this way I know I know youre taking time

We wait forever, if ever and youre too hip to saying never I'll never get it, oh I shouldnt sweat it not Like it matters, its over, yeah at least till you come over so much for shutters, we're living under covers
