Time Bomb

The Format

Oh no, was it worth it?

Starting now I'm starting over I'm gonna sleep with the next person I meet
Starting now I'm starting over
You swore "together forever"
Now you're telling me lies Tell me your words have got no concept of time

Tick tock, you're not a clock
You're a time bomb baby

Oh no, was it worth it?
Was it worth what you did to big business?
Was it worth what your friends put up their noses?

Starting now I'm starting over
Tell the new wave kids their make-up kits can find me where self pity gets a breath of fresh air

Tick tock, you're not a clock
You're a time bomb baby
You set the watch
You're just in time to wreck my life
to bring back what I left behind

Five years and you fell for a waiter
I'm sure he says he's an actor
So you're acting like you never tried to take your life
So starting now I'm starting over I'm throwing bottles
I'm taking showers
I'm going to sleep
Starting now I'm starting over (stop it)
Starting now I'm starting over (stop it)
To play the game
Get even Act my age

Oh no was it worth what you did to your wrists?
