

The Four Elements

The Four Owls

Yeah

You can find me at the Big Bang
Creating my own galaxy where the stars hang
Giving life to man, the origins are inconclusive
Demolishing the land without the trees being uprooted
Don't be deluded, this life is just flashes
Like the warm-ups in cricket, I come before the ashes
Centre of the inferno, infinite like a wormhole
Warm glow, dragon breath blow when I let go
Accept no imitations, I got the best grown
Melt crystallizations and let the ice flow
Time shows that you're seeing me when it's over
I'm a spark from the smolder, dark heart of a soldier
The reason why you never want to do what they told ya
Move the sun a bit further and the world gets colder
The molten and the lava, my slang is yang energy
Never let me near the breeze, or you'll see ten of me

I react to the heat, gives the force to my actions
The breeze comes for free and naturally manufactured
I'm swooping down low when it's cold like the bastards
Give me untold power, pull your house from its rafters
From the north to the south, from the lungs to the laughter
I'm involved in the sounds and reverberations after
Known to rock the windmill and known to get captured
But remain forever untamed, testing is disastrous
Like the truth, you can hide, but you know I'll always get ya
Disappear, reappear like a wizard with a sceptre
Horror film, rattle shutters when I'm getting stressed up
But add me to my friends and there won't be nothing left, trust
Me and Deformed Wing burn the forest, don't mistake us
Big Owls breathes through whispers and spits out the vapors
T will make the ground shake quake if you don't rate us
I'll whistle though the valley of the blind and the dangerous

I hold more power than all of the human armies
I'm seventy percent of the world, and form tsunamis
I'll make your ship capsize, I'm used to baptize
When the moon alignes I reflect it like I'm cat's eyes
Any type of flame, eradicate it in the splash, I rise
From the springs to the rivers, quick to deliver
Minerals for lifesaving fall from the sky
When it rains, supply nations, many lives taken
Dying 'cause I ain't available to hydrate them
The sun and cloud can steal me, I make fountains and you can spill me
I can drown you in the deep sea
I'm home to 230, 000 different species
And like the fish that sees through me, ours states change physically
When temps below zero, we go into a deep freeze
Flow's incomparable and secondary to none
I live my livehood in the cycle, evaporate me, I'm gone

I've been both stepped on and praised at the same time
Foundation based from which we create life
They want to just fight and that tortures me
Forces in the air leaving everybody drawn to me
Blessed by the light, the keeper of the dark

Secrets of the past buried deep within my heart
Peaceful and powerful Zen master brainwaves
Maintain, lay looking up at these strange days
But then when I do move, make the place shake
If you're standing in a tall building, better vacate
Infinite paths, yeah they want to learn more
Turn more corners, you will find what you yearn for
The silent teacher lies beneath
See all your loved ones saying goodbye, then I greet you
You will feel it when you're here resting eternally
All came from me and it all shall return to me
