

I was lone when I cut my ties I was
Ten feet tall in a basketball world
If every island had broke their silence I'd Drink my liquor gut into a whirl
If you'd wanted me I'd be your property and Build my pennies like a stack of old wine
Then all my prophecies be spent like shopping sprees
Save my money in a bank account fire

I don't need you to listen I just need to be heard
I don't wanna feel sorry for the bridge I burned
I don't mean to be angry I just wanna destroy
Every memory
When I was a boy

Handcuffed in a row you blackened domino
Ah who's the first to fall you devilish kid
Shining unto me with mediocrity you
Run your mouth into an all-out sprint
If every melody is heard to some degree I
Guess you better keep your eyes and your ears
With a flashlight on we could catch the dawn and Sing a harmony if that's what you hear

I don't need you to listen I just need to be heard
I don't wanna feel sorry for the bridge I burned
I don't mean to be angry I just wanna destroy
Every memory
When I was a boy
