

Hold Me Down

The Frights

I tried every plan, I told every lie
It's not you, it's me, I don't wanna fight
I'm tired of making out and never making up
I've heard a thousand words, spit off a thousand tongues
You gotta make mistakes and 22 is so young
I'd rather fall back down before I grow back up

There's not love in life but there's a lot in you
Wish I could cut you up, and take a piece of it too
I'm never great with words but I think this song's for you
You answer all my calls, you hold me down when I shake
Carry every pill that I could ever take
I never felt so dumb, I never felt so cool

Can I take all of your time? If that's scary then it's fine
But I'd like to take the day, just to memorize your face
There's a couple different ways, to explain the things I say
But as far as I can see, you're my favorite part of me

I've lost a thousand friends and I'd do it all again if
It means I'm here beside you, forget the ones I've lied to
I've lost a thousand friends and I'd do it all again if
It means I'm here beside you, forget the ones I've lied to
I've lost a thousand friends and I'd do it all again if
It means I'm here beside you, forget the ones I've lied to
I've lost a thousand friends and I'd do it all again if
It means I'm here beside you, forget the ones I've lied to
I've lost a thousand friends and I'd do it all again if
It means I'm here beside you, fuck everyone!
