

Whatever

The Frights

I used to like FIDLAR, that's what she told me
As I got into my van to see the country
Now she's got a new boyfriend or so I'm guessing
Probably kisses her way better and that's depressing

Now I'm drinking in Philly but I'm thinking of Sara
And there's a million little things she's unaware of
I couldn't tell if she saw me, or if she's even looking
But there's no other place I'd rather be than Brooklyn

And I am so fucking sick of you acting like a dick
I'm just trying to pull my life back together
And I am too fucking tired of you calling me a liar
Just tell you what I want, I'll say whatever

I'll say whatever, I'll say whatever
I'll say whatever, I'll say whatever

I was thinking about calling but I'm feeling lazy
Eight hundred miles in a car can drive you crazy
Ah we can say that it was worth it, for a minute it was perfect
But I'm tired of this hurting, I need to work shit out

And I'm still messed up from when you said you didn't love me
Thirty minutes before we played, ten songs about your name
And they started screaming back as I had a heart attack
As I tried to play the lead as I yelled "You're all I need"

And I am so fucking sick of you acting like a dick
I'm just trying to pull myself back together
Cause I am too fucking tired of you calling me a liar
Just tell you what I want, I'll say whatever

I freaked out when I saw her there
I didn't know what to do
Looked at me like I meant something
I never saw that in you
I let you go 'cause I loved you more than
I ever wanted to

So fucking sick of you acting like a dick
Just trying to pull myself back together
Cause I am too fucking tired of you calling me a liar
Just tell you what I want, I'll say whatever

I'll say whatever
I'll say whatever
I'll say whatever

And I am so fucking sick of you acting like a dick
I'm just trying to pull my life back together
Cause I am too fucking tired of you calling me a liar
Just tell you what I want, I'll say whatever

I'll say whatever, I'll say whatever
I'll say whatever, I'll say whatever
I'll say whatever, I'll say whatever

I'll say whatever, I'll say whatever
