

Mortals

The Futureheads

Today
Today I learned
Today I learned something
But what I learned it got under my skin
But I
But I don't care

Today
Today I learned
Today I learned something
And what I learned it got under my skin
But I
But I don't care

Today, today, today I learned something
And what I learned it got under my skin
But I but I but I but I
But I don't care, but I don't care

Today, today, today, today
Today I learned something, today I learned something
And what I learned and what I learned
It got under my skin, it got under my skin
But I but I but I but I
But I don't care, but I don't care

Apparently it's all a dream
And when we die it starts again
Apparently it's all a dream
And when we die it starts again
Mortals, mortals, mortals, mortals

Apparently it's all a dream
And when we die it starts again
Apparently it's all a dream
And when we die it starts again
Mortals, mortals, mortals, mortals

But the life is burning in my bones
And the pain is tickling my soul

But the life is burning in my bones
And the pain is tickling my soul

But the life is burning in my bones
And the pain is tickling my soul

But the life is burning in my bones
And the pain is tickling my soul

Mortals, mortals, mortals, mortals
Mortals, mortals, mortals, mortals
Mortals, mortals, mortals, mortals
