

Begin Again

The Ghost Inside

I thought I gave it my all but I'm still not gaining ground
Can I swim against the current when I'm trying not to drown?
This was my escape - now it holds me captive
If I'm not the one to blame, why doesn't it feel the same?

I saw myself on the way down
He said it's not how our story ends
You know there's always a way out
Weather the storm and begin again

Feels like forever when you're caught in the in-between Caught in the in-between

The ebb and flow it comes in waves and I can't break past them
They say hard times don't last forever but can I outlast them?

What meant the world to me before won't hold the same weight anymore
Is this for me or is this for you? Either way, I need to see it through

Don't let the things you love destroy you
Don't let the things you love destroy you

Feels like forever when you're caught in the in-between

I saw myself on the way down
He said it's not how our story ends
You know there's always a way out
Weather the storm and begin again

I saw myself on the way down
He said it's not how our story ends
You know there's always a way out
Weather the storm and begin again

Weather the storm and begin again