

Greater Distance

The Ghost Inside

All the wrath and all the faith I have inside is eating me alive.
Most tend to put their dreams aside to get them through the day
.
But my eyes are open, and I see the sky.
And I am infinite. I continue on.
I will never fear the unknown, and I am infinite. I can continue on.
Limitless and unbreakable, the wavering wishes of man are but a whimper.
Now stand up high to come and live forever with me.
All hope is not lost.
Some things seem so far away to a half-hearted and broken youth.
Terrified of the outside and everything (in your sight).
It's just within your reach.
Everything is just within your reach.