

Light Years

The Ghost Inside

Feels like I'm light years away, but it's just beyond my reach

There's the end, dead ahead, it's better late than never
I've been trapped all alone, and it's felt like forever
Inside the void without a single light
Lost in an abyss that's suffocating me

I wait for the day to break
I gave more than I could take
And I need a way out that's more than a dream
It feels like I'm light years away, but it's just beyond my reach

Stopped again, sleepwalking, still so fucking tired
Need a change, anything that will get me out of my own head
Is anybody there? Still going nowhere
Gotta try, do or die
Nothing's worse than being stuck in here

I wait for the day to break
I gave more than I could take
And I need a way out that's more than a dream
It feels like I'm light years away, but it's just beyond my reach

By now I should be used to the uncertainty
Can I outweigh the overbearing gravity?
Can I outweigh the overbearing gravity?
Inside the void without a single light
Lost in an abyss that's suffocating me

I wait for the day to break
I gave more than I could take
And I need a way out that's more than a dream
It feels like I'm light years away, but it's just beyond my reach

Beyond my reach, beyond my reach, beyond my reach
It's just beyond my reach
Beyond my reach, beyond my reach, beyond my reach
It's just beyond my reach
