Always

The Gift

In your eyes I saw the light
In your eyes I saw her broken heart
And you still got power to scream
With many humans that I ever conceive
Forget the memories
Forget the rest
Forget the tragedies
Forget the sad songs
And be someone else on this dream
And be someone else on this dream
You can change my whole world
With a smile
You can change my whole life
With a song
And all the smiles they could be
For all the times you touched me
And all the dreams fantasy
And all the smiles they could be
For all the times you touched me
And all the dreams fantasy
