The Gift

Far seas, mountains above, stay strong now Far fears, conquer t he world, stay strong now Ice breeze, fountains of tears, stay strong now Fire fields melting frontiers

So carry on The first born son They'll write your name Stars wi ll light your way It will never be the same, oh no!

Foreign ships set to sail, stay strong now Treasures wrecked in the bay, stay strong now 'Cause someone, someone will sign thi s day Tide shields, red flags, a flame

The skies align and they will shine No one to blame if things d on't go your way, oh no!

So carry on The first born son They'll write your name Stars wi ll light your way It will never be the same, oh no!

To be there...
