

You Know

The Gift

You know I can let you go, you just know..
And you know they can let you go.
And I know why I start to run, running out, don't talk, don't stop don't run.
Can't stop running out, I can let you go.
You know I can let you go, because I'm a fucking asshole,
I can let you go, and you're a fucking asshole because you can let me go,
and you tell me that..
Run or that I should stop talking about the same problems - That I'm not near by - and then you run, you keep talking about those fucking problems, I don't care because, baby,
I can let you go. Everybody knows I can let you go.
I think you once said to me - If you run please tell me how can I live spending my life with you, when you don't care about myself - you tell me this tell me that, we run and so, you're a fucking asshole.
I know, I can let you go.
