

Spirit To Break

The Glorious Sons

What's the city look like from your new bedroom window?
Do you think you see your ex-lover driving by real slow?
Does it make you feel uneasy, does it tickle your ego?
Would you look at me and say it's really not that simple?

Well I turned on the TV, saw my own face
From a hospital bed, did you see me babe?
A morphine drip and a demon to chase
But I still woke up with a spirit to break

I swallowed dad's pills, took a knife to my arm, girl
I just started digging, till your eyes took me under Woke up in an ambulance two towns over
Blowing kisses at Jesus I came back for you girl

Well you turned off the TV, saw your own face
From your lonely bed, did you feel me babe?
A morphine drip and a demon to chase
Did you still wake up with a spirit to break?
I'm coming up from so far under baby
I'm coming up, I'm on my way
Show me that you still have a spirit to break

When we were sixteen, you told me never change
Well here I am baby, but I'm not the same

I'm coming up from so far under baby

Well I turned on the TV, saw my own face
From a hospital bed, did you see me babe?
A morphine drip and a demon to chase
But I still woke up with a spirit to break
I'm coming up from so far under baby
I'm coming up, I'm on my way
Show me that you still have a spirit to break

Show me that you still have a spirit to break
Show me that you still have a spirit to break
