over the range the secret is what we became now only the secret remains don't settle on me now the cover is blown with a touch we go when they're asking too much got a history and its catching up crossed the nation like a rolling blackout got the mystery but its not enough ain't a prison but you'll never get out realise staying over is yr only prize now i know some forget... but i don't the road before us we move on and never let out the things we had whispered about back to the mirror now theres nobody left to defend its here that my loyalty ends got a history and its catching up crossed the nation like a rolling blackout got the mystery but its not enough ain't a prison but you'll never get out realise staying over is yr only prize now i know some forgive... but i don't no delay get out today get out if only i could letting go i could say no... but i won't