

Warriors

The Good Natured

Warriors

they came in fright to fight a war that had already been won so go back home to those you love and tell them that you are sorry for all of the pain that you have once supposed and that you will never go away again
go away again,
never go away again,
never go away again

never go away again,
stay by my side like you promised me nights ago, why did you have to go?
have to go?
but there are certain things that I will never know your minds complexity something that I can not comprehend, so I pretend, that I do
understand you

but you promised me that things would change you said that we would find a better way run away with me, oh
run away with me

let's get lonely now,
let's get lonely now
my minds gone blind
where are you now?
I'm crying out,
I'm crying out
in the middle of the night,
where are you now?

let's get lonely now,
let's get lonely now
my minds gone blind
where are you now?
I'm crying out,
I'm crying out
in the middle of the night,
where are you now?

let's get lonely now

Some things just never change I will never alter your frame and my joke to sad in your ways just fight the promises you make your thoughts are beyond me your mentality is not admirable have you lost your mind?
Now your gone

let's get lonely now,
let's get lonely now

my minds gone blind
where are you now?
I'm crying out,
I'm crying out
in the middle of the night,
where are you now?

let's get lonely now,
let's get lonely now
my minds gone blind
where are you now?
I'm crying out,
I'm crying out
in the middle of the night,
where are you now?

let's get lonely now
let's get lonely now
