The Grapes Of Wrath

Everyday, everytime I see you I think about all those times every night that I have been by myself right beside your empty side I still see you
lying here beside me
I'm such a fool
it's time to try to forget
it's time to try
All of those vows
all of those promises that you wanted me to make to you all of those lies everytime you told me we'd be together for all time I still see you
lying here beside me
I'm such a fool
it's time to try to forget
it's time to try
I can't believe
I've finally get, get, get, get up off my feet Everyday, everytime I see you thanking God that I'm alright no more strife
watched it walk right out of my life with a little of my heart I found someone new to lay here beside me I'm n'uch a fool
it's time to try to forget
it's time to try
