

Here's Where You Belong

The Grass Roots

You can change the mask you wear, but not the way you feel inside.
Go bury your head into the sand, but you can never hide.

Your mind
it is a battleground.
Your brain's a raging storm

Here's where you belong,
here's where you belong
don't let your fantasies take you away from me
here's where you belong

The stains of childhood cannot be erased like some paper tattoo but baby,
don't let that drag you down like they're expecting you to do

Oh yesterday's failure is today's success your path is easily shown

baby, here's where you belong
don't let your fantasies take you away from me
oh lady I'm waiting the world in the palm of your hand

Tell me what would it take you to make you understand oh
when you stand there in front of your mirror, unable to realize that everything you've been seeking is right here in front of your eyes

You're re traveling barefoot on a rocky road when you could be safe and warm

baby, here's where you belong
oh here's where you belong

Yeah

Here's where you belong
