

Who Will You Be Tomorrow

The Grass Roots

You're actin' different and you're changin' your ways
Where you goin'?
Don't you think you got somethin' to say?
Where you headin'?

You don't know where your head is at
You don't know where it's really at
You think you're cool but you find out that-a
You're wastin' time usin' someone else's line, girl

Donovan is puttin' words in your mouth
Can't you see you gotta think for yourself, yeah

You say you're just being yourself
You're a liar
'Cause you're thinking, "Is everyone else's Head on fire?"

You say that you're just doin' your thing-a
They hum that tune and you join 'em to sing-a
Can't you see that they don't know everything-a?
You're in today but who'll you be tomorrow?

You're wastin' time usin' someone else's line, girl
George is puttin' words in your mouth
Even he says to think for yourself, yeah
