

Endless Summer

The Gray Havens

Have you ever missed somewhere
That you've never been before?
Like there's a memory there
'Cept you don't remember anymore
I feel the weight in the silence
And when the night starts getting cold
And it's been like that for a long, long time
And I heard we got a longer way to go

They say we're in for an endless winter
Till we're gone
But when I search that sunrise
Feels like I belong
To an endless summer, somewhere
Are we meant for an endless summer, on and on?

Have you ever wanted so bad
To believe in something more?
Then one day all that's holding you back
Just doesn't hold a candle anymore
To the stars, that sunrise
So while I found out where this goes
I'm giving standing room to the cold for now
But not a place upon a throne, no

They say we're in for an endless winter
Till we're gone
But when I search that sunrise
Feels like I belong
To an endless summer, somewhere
Are we meant for an endless summer, on and on?
Meant for an endless summer, somewhere
Are we meant for an endless summer, on and on?

Endless
Endless
