

Become Surrender

The Halo Effect

Wake the force...

Wake the force that upend the contract
Will this into existance
To be what's given
Effectively decided
What has been agreed
The day of our defeat

For desire behind the lie

I don't want to feel this real
With all this distance between us
We give in to our failures and our fears
We become surrender

Listen to the changing winds
Feel the waves of discontent
A reckoning averted
Reality unbound
Feel the force of our control
The force of our control

Leave denial behind us all

I don't want to feel this real
With all this distance between us
We give in to our failures and our fears
We become surrender

I don't want to feel this real
With all this distance between us
We give in to our failures and our fears
We become surrender
I don't want to feel this real
With all this distance between us
We give in to our failures and our fears
We become surrender

We become surrender
Surrender
