

I Remember

The Happy Fits

I could always play it back
The smell of coffee burnt to black
I fight through crowds with urgency
For no one's purpose as good as me

Oh I, I wanna be with you again
Oh I, I wanna tell you everything
I remember
I remember

I yearn for miles, it's never cheap
A funny postcard, a small antique

Oh I, I wanna be with you again
Oh I, I miss you oh so much my friend
I remember (I remember)
I remember
I remember (I remember)
I remember

There's a child, and he's screaming
Can we show him to the door?
It's a stiff seat and we're shaking
But you get what you pay for
I swear I could dream you were the one

I am tired, I am beaming
Forty thousand feet above
Out of college, out of boredom
Out of money, out of love
I swear I could dream you were the one

If I could change your memory
I'd burn through words I meant to say but could never speak

Oh I, I wanna be with you again
Oh I, wanna say how sorry I am
I remember (I remember)
I remember
I remember (I remember)
I remember

I'm a coward, I am useless
So impulsive off the cuff
When I called you, that was ruthless
Does this make it up enough?
I swear I could dream you were the one

Maybe it's true, it's black and it's blue
I try but can't make it out
Back in those dreams as bitter they seem
I try but can't make it out
Maybe it's true it's black and it's blue
I try but can't make it out
Back in those dreams as bitter they seem
I try but can't make it out
I try but can't make it out

Out
Make it out
Out
