

I'll Be Somewhere

The Happy Fits

Tell me your secret; Maybe I'll tell you mine
'Cause I've got a feelin' something just ain't right
I've been believing one day it'll all be fine
So, give me a reason to stay here one more night

I got a lover's heart but I walk vagabond directions
No, I don't wanna start any place that's away from you

So, I'll be somewhere thinking about you
And I hope you're out there, thinking about me, too
We can wait till the end, 'til I come back home again
And I know that one day I'll be alone with you

Tell me your regrets; Maybe I'll tell you mine
'Cause I've been up reelin'. Something just ain't right
Darlin', I'm sleepless. Tossin' and turnin' all night
To savor the feeling of your heart next to mine

I got a lover's heart but I walk vagabond directions
No, I don't wanna start any place that's away from you

So, I'll be somewhere thinking about you
And I hope you're out there, thinking about me, too
We can wait till the end, 'til I come back home again
And I know that one day I'll be alone with you

I got a million dreams but I'm blind to my own affection
Oh, when I fall apart, everything you can make anew
I got a lover's heart but I walk vagabond directions
No, I don't wanna start any place that's away from you

So, I'll be somewhere thinking about you
And I hope you're out there, thinking about me, too
We can wait till the end, 'til I come back home again
And I know that one day I'll be alone with you
