Sweet Relief

The Haunted

Contextualize it and justify
As the passive servility eats you alive
Like a Japanese girl with a taste for absurdity
Roped up and screaming for more

In spinless decisions you cling to a lie A futile attempt to uphold your claim As a new generation of nihilist rage Get a grip on how to get shit done

We'll get you in the end, sweet relief
I survive trough the blaze of another day
Lower down and hide
Let me wake in a dream here you come undone
Sweet relief

Barter, compile it, package the scam
Analyze the effects and the overall consequence
Duping the masses, so fucking what
You get what you give I can see it now

Bring in the puppets, turn on the light Round up the gullible sheep Deliver the drama, fake and obscene The drug of a nation asleep

We'll get you in the end, sweet relief Die please step this, I'm begging you Cease to breathe You are killing everyone I love

We'll get you in the end sweet relief
As the cane draws a line in the sand of time
Blood covers bone
In the eye of the dying I can read your thoughts
Guilt as charged

Guinea pigs all, selfless and blind An effortless crime No wonder it's all going down
