

The World Burns

The Haunted

Conjuring up the demons from the fiery pits of hell.
Slithering serpents of the underworld release their black worm seed.
Enthralled by the falling star, watch the daylight fail.

Impelled by twisted vengeance, fortify the armies of the dead.

Brooding Darkness spreads his wings.
The usurper of the throne.

The world burns in penal fire.
Awakening the spirits of the dead.
The world turns, forged in fire.
Rising..the souls of the damned.

Ravished by the malice, which exceeds your darkest dreams.
Embraced by a sulphur sky, take leave of your mortal flesh.

All life expired.
Our visions dead.
All hope expired.
Fortify the armies of the dead.
