

Another Turn

The Hellcopters

You don't seem to love me anymore these days Happiness is gone at least I see that in your face when the storm is over and the sun is out there are rainbows in your eyes
mouth to mouth and another turn with lies

I don't want to hurt you but I always seem to do One more single round and that thing will be true for good when the storm is over and the sun is out there are rainbows in y our eyes
mouth to mouth and another turn with lies

it will always be the same changes are difficult so this must be a never ending game

When the cold turns warm and the clouds are gone there are star s in your eyes
When the storm is over and the sun is out there are rainbows in
your eyes
Raibows in your eyes
Rainbows in your eyes, oh yeah
